Dear Backup Home Protection,

Having over forty years of law enforcement and private protective services, I have seen many self defense devices. I would like to congratulate you on the development of this product. It is certainly a much safer and secure solution than having a shotgun in the corner, or under the bed. In addition it gives the homeowner easy access to the weapon should the occasion arise. I have advised people over the years that a shotgun provides the most effective protection against home invasion. It is good to have a product of this type. Keep up the good work.

Sincerely,
